Antioquia Presente is a non-governmental organization with 40 years of experience. We promote and develop resilient communities, societies, and territories. We work through 3 lines and have had these accomplishments:

- Disaster risk reduction building back better 8.200 stronger and resilient infrastructures (houses and social infrastructure).
- Reestablishing living conditions after 72 disasters in Colombia and countries like Haiti. Social, economic and habitat interventions.
- Managing 50 Environmental Social Governance (ESG) and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) projects. Working with companies and Governments all around Colombia and 12 countries.

We develop projects through comprehensive practices that promote solidarity and encourage alliances between public and private organizations. We work to promote resilient development in Colombia and other countries. We work in four areas: social, economic, habitat and disaster risk management.

Our model of intervention works hand in hand with the communities, their traditions, knowledge, and their culture. We are moved by our work in the territories, and we interact with them in a resilient, regenerative, and conscious way. We do this under the pillars of transparency and accuracy.

We are an NGO in Colombia that almost always works in Public-Private Partnerships at the national, regional, or local level. This happens in 3 ways:

- After a disaster: we receive private donations and work together with the government building back better (stronger and resilient) a community.
- Enterprises and governments hire us to implement Environmental Social Governance (ESG) Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) projects and disaster risk reduction projects.
